

1. About this Cookie Policy

This Cookie Policy explains how Fire & Building Integrity Ltd uses cookies and similar technologies when you visit our website at firebuildingintegrity.co.uk.

2. Cookies

Our website does not currently use cookies for analytics, advertising, marketing or tracking purposes.

When you visit our website, we do not currently set any non-essential cookies on your device.

3. Essential website functionality

The website may use technologies provided by WordPress that are necessary to support basic website functionality.

The website may also use temporary browser session storage for technical functions, such as checking browser support for certain website features. This information is not used by Fire & Building Integrity Ltd to identify, track or profile visitors.

4. Third-party services

The website may use third-party services to support website operation, security or performance. Where a third-party service changes the way information is stored or accessed on your device, this Cookie Policy may be updated accordingly.

5. Changes to this Cookie Policy

We may update this Cookie Policy if the cookies or similar technologies used by the website change, or where necessary to reflect changes in applicable legal or regulatory requirements.

The latest version will always be published on this page.

6. Contact
